> > On last Saturday night a Mr. Loftin, son of Wm. Loftin, Chairman of the Board of Commissioners, and High Priest of the Radical party in Davidson county, cowardly, and without provocation, stabbed Capt. T. Harvey, Superintendent of the Silver Valley Mine. The only cause for this murderous attempt was that Loftin, being a little too patriotic, caused by the too free use of benzine, was ordered off Mr. Harvey's premises, refusing to leave. Mr. H. attempted (and he had the right to do so) to forcibly eject him, when he was stabbed seriously, but it is hoped not

> GENERAL W. D. PENDER.—Near one of the corners of the burial ground reposes all that is mortal of this great soldier .-There is no monument to mark his resting place-no slab, no cenotaph, nothing but a few cannon balls. Is this all that Edgecombe has to give to the memory of her greatest citizen? Has she no gratitude, no appreciation of virtue, and manhood, and intelligence, and courage, and consecration to the "lost cause?" Have her citizens no affection for the heroic dead who gave his life to his country? Surely old Edgecombe, so rich in the products of the soil, so blessed with a virtuous and intelligent population, will not permit the grave of her most distinguished citizen to remain longer unmarked by an appropriate memorial. A large beautiful monument ought to be erected at once, and upon it should be engraven the splendid tribute paid to the honored dead by Gen. Lee in his report of the Maryland campaign. No soldier from N. C. ever won such distinction as Gen. Pender. Gen. Lee regarded him next to Jackson, as his best officer, and Gen. A. P. Hill gave it as his opinion that he was the best officer of his grade to be found in the Confederate army. With such a high glorious record as he left his memory should be forever embalmed in the hearts of his countrymen, and a fitting monument should be reared to tell of his virtues and to express something of the gratitude of Fayetteville Eagle
